Summer Solstice: Tune Up Your Own Personal Astro-Alignment for the Summer Season

Admission:

*Free
Mini-Readings: $20*

Join Astrologer Liz Howell and a host of other cultural creatives at Face Body Soul for an evening of community talent-sharing as we give an early welcome to the Summer Solstice. Liz is the founder of Celestial Living Arts, a local company that supports organic, cosmic alignment through the integration of astrology in everyday life. Her SolaLUNA product line is organically and locally sourced and features custom botanical blends for each sign of the zodiac. Join her for mini-astrology readings and a glance at the powerful energies of the Summer Solstice for the 2009 season.

About The Presenter:

Liz Howell's passion for exploring the connections in the body to the world(s) around us has been a life-long journey spanning a professional dance career in New York City to a somatic healing arts practice in Hawaii. Her ongoing study of herbal and culinary science has taken her on treks to Bali and into some of the finest kitchens and gardens around the world. Now in Portland, OR, she and her company, Celestial Living Arts, are thriving with the region's passion for and dedication to green, sustainable and conscious living. Much of the experimentation and research conducted on the botanical astrology theories are tested in her own urban SPIN (small plot intensive) neighborhood garden in the heart of the Northwest section of Portland. Her interests include healing and culinary arts, herbology, gardening, metaphysics . . . and, of course, astrology.
